

Ensuring good ICT practice across the whole school

Sally Tippett Consultancy

Sally has helped numerous schools raise the bar in their ICT operations.

Having previously worked at local authority level, Sally is a current ICT Mark assessor and 360 Safe assessor and also has years of teaching experience under her belt; giving her a unique insight into helping teachers make the most of the ICT tools at their fingertips in a classroom context.

She draws on this experience when working with schools to help develop and achieve a vision, audit current practice and develop an action plan through a range of services.
